The theme emphasizes the aspiration for and support of the agenda of President Ferdinand Romualdez Marcos Jr. on Bagong Pilipinas, where learners are recognized as one of the key foundations in creating a progressive nation and sustaining a steady climb to reaching the national goal. The Filipino learners are the country's budding human capital, substantive to the desired transformation as their ideas, daring yet responsible actions, forward-thinking perspectives, and active engagement contribute to a more prosperous and promising future while maintaining the uniquely Filipino, authentic, and positive human values.

Participation in engaging activities such as integrating values into daily lessons and activities across all learning areas, conducting Values Education sessions (seminars, workshops, and discussions focusing on character education, moral values, and citizenship), organizing poster and slogan-making contests, facilitating essay writing and oratorical contests, engaging in community and outreach programs, and recognizing character awards, is strongly encouraged. Moreover, the infusion of values into other celebrations coinciding with Filipino Values Month, such as National Children's Month, Economic and Financial Literacy Week, Global Warming and Climate Change Consciousness Week, Araw ng Pagbasa, National Week for the Gifted and Talented, National Science and Technology Week, and in other co-curricular activities, is highly recommended.
